Here's what's currently known about Southwest Airlines and any presence in Moscow, Russia:

Southwest Airlines Representation in Moscow

Southwest Airlines does not have a publicly listed official corporate or ticket office address in Moscow like some other carriers do. However, some aviation directories and contact listings note that Southwest has had a representative/contact point for Russia with the following details: (World Airlines)

Moscow (Representative Contact)

- Phone (Russia contact): +1-888-839-0510 (World Airlines)
- Email: southwestairlines@ifly.southwest.com (World Airlines)

 This information appears to be a general representative contact, not a clearly defined physical office address within Moscow. There is no verified street address or business center office publicly available through official Southwest sources for a Moscow office.

Airport Locations (If Scheduling Flights)

If you're looking for where Southwest might operate airport counters in Moscow (which is separate from an office), online listings suggest that Southwest-related services may appear in airport contexts like ticket counters — but note that Southwest Airlines traditionally doesn't operate scheduled international flights to Russia and has no official flight operations in Moscow.
